Empower the stars to guide the way,
Empower the birds to find their way,
Empower the students to stand up strong,
Empower the teachers to teach them where they belong,
Empower people to hope and believe
That we will make it through this
With all that we need.

Empower the people who are at home
Crying because their loved ones are in the hospital
And they feel like they are dying.
Empower them to stand up with their strength
And their pride, that we will all make it through this.
Empower your mother, your father, your sisters
And your brother that we will all live through this.
Just believe and be united together.
